

Mission & Background

The Industrial Geographer (ISSN 1540-1669) publishes articles and research notes that focus on a broad range of economic issues across all economic sectors and explore issues at all scales from the firm to the globe. The journal encourages submissions that are theoretically driven empirical research, papers with an applied and planning thrust, and papers that explore directions for future research. The IG publishes two issues annually in the Spring (April-May) and Fall (September-October). Individuals interested in organizing a special issue should contact the editors.

The Industrial Geographer is a collaborative effort between the ISU Cunningham Memorial Library and the Department of Geography, Geology, & Anthropology. The IG is affiliated with the AAG Regional Development & Planning Specialty Group and IGU Commission on the Dynamics of Economic Spaces.
